FRIDAY.....MAY 12, 1905

Editor Shiozawa thinks the Japanese ought to be allowed to carry on their troubles among themselves. That's proper provided they don't broaden out into a war that affects the community.

Linevitch says a company of Japanese caused Kurokita to order the retreat from Mukden. Linevitch now has troubles of his own and may be able to show what can be done. According to all accounts it was a good sized company.

The demand for liberal appropriations for the public schools will not be met by an appropriation less than the amount asked by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Excuses will not be in order. Where there's a will there's a way.

Japan has thus far failed to deny the loss of Togo's flagship Mikasa. The public has just as much reason to believe the rumor manufactured to please the Russians as to conclude that it is true. Overconfidence has whipped every Russian force thus far.

Purchase of Paua water sources is an item that comes well within the scope of a loan appropriation. It means the purchase of a source of revenue as well as a guarantee of sufficient pure water. It is a more appropriate item than road extension, practically road repair, can possibly be.

The Advertiser follows up its amusing explanation of an insignificant news item with a communication detailing how frequently and in what diverse places old friendship and relationship causes the Attorney General and L. A. Thurston to meet. It all goes to show that the love and affection between the two ought, under the circumstances, to be strong enough for one to do what the other asks.

FOR FAIR DEALING.

Though they got very busy in making an immediate movement to attack the law giving the people of these islands local self-government, the alleged political purists organized under a dignified name have given the approval of silence to political jobbery methods exemplified in a precinct meeting called as a result of the law the purists are attacking. It is an old saying that the best way to gain the confidence of the people is to practise what you preach. Outside Hawaii, Civic Federation preaches fair dealing and straight methods in political work. And outside Hawaii this is practised.

It has remained for the alleged political purists of Honolulu to move actively and earnestly against the establishment of an American form of government in the Territory and at the same time give the consent of silence when one of its committeemen leads a precinct primary ticket that was jobbed through.

All this may be political purity but to self-respecting independent citizens, it savors of the political sewer.

If practical politics are to be kept within lines of fair play and decency, it is, as is apparent now, and it always has been, that the people must depend on the regular party organization which the purists as true pessimists try to discredit.

One man said in his heart,
"It doesn't do me any good to advertise."

That man was a wonder, to put it mildly.

The Irishman who sat on the limb he was sawing couldn't see that it hurt him any till he hit the toboggan side and bit the dust. The man who doesn't need to advertise has reached the point where he is standing stock still. He may keep comfortable for a while but it is a matter of a short time when a wide-awake, progressive competitor will get in, and, with the judicious and intelligent use of advertising, get the business.

CARNEGIE'S LATEST GIFT.

Andrew Carnegie's gift of $10,000,000 to provide a fund for used up teachers and professors is estimated to net $500,000 a year should there be no collapse in the bonds of the United States Steel corporation, which forms the basis of the bequest.

The letter of Mr. Carnegie to the prospective trustees of the fund shows that he has very broad views on the matter of taking care of the educators of the land. The benefits are to go to all teachers of the American continent north of the Mexican boundary, except the strictly sectarian, though he makes a liberal interpretation of the term "sectarian school."

The work is to be inaugurated by Dr. Henry S. Pritchett of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Mr. Vanderlip of the National City Bank of New York. The latter in his announcement to the press says:

"It is Mr. Carnegie's belief that this fund will not only provide a dignified pension system for a body of most worthy, self-sacrificing and poorly paid men, but that it will be of distinct value to the cause of education in offering an opportunity to the trustees of a college to retire members of the faculty who have faithfully served the institution for so many years and to replace such men with young, vigorous and efficient professors."

The broad scope of the work is more fully set forth in Mr. Carnegie's letter, the leading features of which follow:

"I have reached the conclusion that the least rewarded of all the professions is that of the teacher in our higher educational institutions. New York city generously and very wisely provides retiring pensions for teachers in her public schools and also for her policemen. Very few, indeed, of our colleges are able to do so. The consequences are grievous. Able men hesitate to adopt teaching as a career and many old professors whose places should be occupied by younger men cannot be retired.

"I have therefore transferred to you and your successors as trustees, $10,000,000 five per cent first-mortgage bonds of the United States Steel corporation, the revenue from which is to provide retiring pensions for the teachers of universities, colleges and technical schools in our own country, Canada and Newfoundland, under such conditions as you may adopt from time to time. Expert calculations show that the revenue will be ample for the purpose.

"The fund applies to the three classes of institutions named, without regard to race, sex, creed or color. We have, however, to recognize that state and colonial governments which have established or mainly support universities, colleges or schools, may prefer that their relations shall remain exclusive with the state. I cannot, therefore, presume to include them.

"There is another class which states do not aid, their constitutions in some cases even forbidding it, namely, sectarian institutions. Many of these, established long ago were truly sectarian, but today are free to all men of all creeds or of none—such are not to be considered sectarian now. Only such as are under control of a sect or require trustees (or a majority thereof), officers, faculty or students, to belong to any specified sect, or which impose any theological test, are to be excluded.

"Trustees shall hold office for five years and be eligible for re-election. The first trustee shall draw lots for one, two, three four or five-year terms, so that one-fifth shall retire each year. Each institution participating in the fund shall cast one vote for trustees." Rockefeller is claimed to have bought educational policies by establishing a university. Carnegie can certainly plead not guilty when he provides a haven for educators who have given their best days to the youth of the land and had not enough time to think of money for the latter years.

MANY HAWAIIANS ON NAONE'S JURY

The drawing of a jury to try the Naone murder case is progressing quite rapidly in Judge De Bolt's court. Peremptory challenges were exercised throughout the forenoon the defense using four and the prosecution one. The defense has now two challenges left and the prosecution only one. The proceedings were somewhat delayed for cause for one reason and another. H. R. Eckart was drawn to take the place of W. P. Roth, excused yesterday, but was excused for cause. W. J. Kwal Fong was drawn in his place. J. B. Goldstone was challenged by the defense and J. M. Alu drawn. The prosecution challenged J. H. Boyd, and E. L. Doyle was drawn in his place.

Doyle was challenged by the defense and C. E. Frasher drawn. Owing to the frequent disturbance of the proceedings by vehicles passing up and down Millilani street, the court at this time ordered the clerk to forthwith direct the High Sheriff to station two officers at each end of the Millilani street block to stop all vehicles from passing up and down the street while the court was in session.

The defense challenged Kwal Fong and F. W. Beardslee was drawn. J. K. Inch was challenged by the prosecution and Ben Naukana drawn. He was excused for cause and R. M. Mahaulu drawn in his place.

F. W. Beardslee was challenged by the defense and C. A. DeCew drawn. He was excused for cause and J. B. Carden drawn. Carden also was excused for cause and W. D. Adams drawn. Adams was likewise excused for cause. J. Veary was drawn in his place, but was challenged by the defense. D. Douglass was drawn.

At this time the noon hour was approaching and the prosecution asked that a recess be taken in order that it could deliberate on how it should use its last and only challenge. This was granted.

The following is a list of jurors now in the box: Milus Parkhurst, F. W. Macfarlane, Jr., W. L. Austin, Benito Guerrero, C. A. G. Maertens, E. L. Sharratt, C. H. Ramsay, E. T. Dreier, J. M. Alu, C. E. Frasher, R. S. Mahaulu, D. Douglass.

A peculiarity about this jury is that the number of Hawaiians or part-Hawaiians on it far exceeds the usual

ATHLETES PREPARE FOR TRACK MEET

Each team entered in the track meet at Boys' Field tomorrow declares it is a sure winner of the handsome silk pennant offered for the championship. St. Louis College, Mills Institute, the Normal School and the Y. M. C. A. have entered teams and as the entry list is full of dark horses the result is uncertain. The youngsters are taking more interest in this than they do in the open championship meet, and every event is up to the limit in entries.

The band has "consented to appear" and everything is in readiness for the affair.

HOUSE LATE TO WORK

The House was thirty-five minutes late in opening business this afternoon, many of the members lingering amid the green coolness of Kapiolani park, on the inspection trip of the legislators made today.

When work was resumed S. B. 3, the loan measure, was again taken up in Committee of the Whole.

The local cable office was this afternoon advised by cable from Midway island that the U. S. S. Iroquois with the schooner Chas. L. Woodbury in tow had arrived there in good condition. As no one from the schooner had as yet been ashore at the time the message was sent no details of the loss of the pursuer of the Woodbury were learned.

A later dispatch reported all on board as well. Man lost overboard off Kauai was named Clarke.

SHIOZAWA NOT IT BUT MUST GO WITH PEOPLE

"I think the man who gave you the interview about my being the leader of this movement against the Consul and a candidate for Consul myself, must have been a white man," said Editor Shiozawa this morning in the Bulletin office. When assured that the man was a full-blooded Japanese, Shiozawa said the man must be crazy. In reply to the direct question, Shiozawa said, "I am not at the head of the movement against the Consul. I am not after the Consulship. That is too funny. I have printed it in my paper today and the Japanese people will laugh. I didn't get up the meeting. The people are aroused and I cannot oppose public sentiment. I am cornered and I must go with the people."

"I am sorry however the matter has got into the English press. It has been going on for over a month. It is no new thing. But it is peculiarly a Japanese question and I would prefer that we fight it out among ourselves."

"I know things that I do not care to talk about regarding the methods of dealing with the immigrants. Let us fight it out in the Japanese colony. I doubt that it is a matter that the local authorities could handle in any way. It is a matter between the Japanese people and their government."

NAVY DOCKS ARE NOW VERY QUIET

With the departure of three naval vessels the navy docks once more resumed their usual quiet. The Bear is the only one of Uncle Sam's vessels left in port.

The little Ranger continued her voyage to Cavite yesterday afternoon. Her men will be assigned to various vessels on the Asiatic station. She carries a lot of 6-pounder ammunition for the battleships Oregon and Wisconsin.

The army transport Sherman left at 11 o'clock this morning, the famous Ninth Infantry band playing, "Good-by, Little Girl, Good-by," and hundreds of soldiers whistling the familiar strains, while some of the feminine passengers sang the words. The Sherman goes crowded with passengers, carrying about 1550 souls all told. The Ninth Infantry and the Seventh Cavalry together make a total of 1022 enlisted men. Although the quarters are so crowded the passengers are admirably arranged, and not a complaint was heard here while the vessel was in port.

The cruiser Boston left at 1 o'clock this afternoon. A number of people were down to see the crack cruiser leave for San Francisco. The Boston made a host of friends here, and everybody is sorry the little fighting machine leaves this port. She will go to San Francisco and thence to the Portland exposition and Puget Sound ports.

ATTACKS LIKE HYENA RUNS LIKE MONGOOSE

Editor Evening Bulletin:—The Advertiser has failed to publish the following letter. Please give it space and thus let the public see that while the morning paper attacks me in season and out of season, it will not give me a chance to fight back in its column. It invariably attacks me like a hyena, and then, when I get at them with a stick, it runs like a mongoose.
T. McCANTS STEWART.
May 12th, 1905.

To the Editor of the Advertiser:
You use the term "graff" so freely that it is hard to understand its meaning.

"Graft" is understood to be getting money out of the public dishonestly. Now, you apply it to me because I think that a lawyer, invited by the Attorney General to assist him in most important litigation, should be paid a reasonable fee.

I see your representative daily around the legislative doors watching a chance to get printing jobs. Is he after "graff"? Are you a printing "graff"?

You refer to the fact that by consent of all the interested parties I got a fee as receiver in the Maunaloa Sugar Co. case. Your Mr. Thurston got a big fee for promoting Kihel, which people refer to with exclamation points as numerous as stars. Do you call that "graff"?

When the Attorney General came to me and asked me to assist him in defending the county act he said he had only a little money. He voluntarily offered me a fee of $50. He made this offer without a word from me as to fee. I then said to him that the Legislature could provide for the expense, an expense which he, by seeking outside legal aid, was making necessary. He gets a salary. Is it fair for him to expect another lawyer to work for nothing?

Remember, he sought me. I did not go to him.

In forcing me to work without fee is that not a "graff" on my livelihood? You say I am lobbying for a fee. I challenge you to name a single legislator to whom I have made a single suggestion with reference to a fee in this matter.

The day the Attorney General offered me this work I stated to Senator Lane in my office that the Attorney General said he was able to pay me only $50. I then declared that the fee was wholly inadequate and that the Legislature should provide for the expense. I have not said a word to any other legislator, directly or indirectly, on the subject; and I pledge my personal honor for the statement.

I gave months of service in drafting the county act. Senator Achi and other legislators urged me to allow him to move for a fee. I declined to allow it, saying that I agreed to do the work without pay and I would not be a party to any fee business.

But when the Attorney General approaches me and asks me to assist him to carry on important litigation which may go to the Supreme Court of the United States, I submit that it is not fair, especially in these hard times, to ask any lawyer to do the work without pay.

You need all the printing you can get, and you take all you get from the Legislature, and you hustle for it, to help out your "slender income"; but when people you do not like seek an honest living in an honest way, you cry "graff."

If you were less of a "graffer" yourself you would not cry "graff" so much.

HOUSE RAISES GENERAL ITEMS

EXTRA SESSION.

ELEVENTH DAY.

The House this morning received the following from the Chamber of Commerce:

May 11, 1905.
Hon. Eric Knudsen, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Territory of Hawaii.

Dear Sir: The necessity, for thorough education of the youth in any American community and the special demand for proper development of the youth of this new American Territory, has moved the officers of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce to lend the support of their organization to any and all efforts to advance the interests of the public schools.

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees, on the 10th instant, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved: That the Legislature be requested to make liberal appropriations for the Public Schools of the Territory.

Respectfully yours,
JAS. GORDON SPENCER,
Secretary, Honolulu Chamber of Commerce.

On the Loan Bill.
The House went into Committee of the Whole on Senate Bill 3, the loan bill, handling items as below noted:

"General appropriations for all islands" was the section disposed of for the time being, some of the items, notably $300,000 for Honolulu wharf extension, being deferred.

In the matter of items this morning considered, numerous new items being inserted, the appropriations were greatly increased.

Oahu was given an additional $21,000; Hawaii $23,000; Maui $49,000 and Kauai $14,000.

Under "general appropriations for all islands," on motion of Rep. Holstein, item "Government building, Hilo, $25,000," was amended to read "$40,000."

Court House and Jail, N. Kona, $8,000, was passed.

On motion of Rice, item "court house and jail, Lihue, Kauai" was raised from $10,000 to $25,000.

You need all the printing you can get, and you take all you get from the Legislature, and you hustle for it, to help out your "slender income"; but when people you do not like seek an honest living in an honest way, you cry "graff."

If you were less of a "graffer" yourself you would not cry "graff" so much.

SIATE OR NO SIATE

The men who think there is no interest in the county campaign have not been out among the precincts to learn what is going on. In the first place there is a "government" slate in most every precinct and in some places there will be a pretty fight on it. There are also Brown and Crabbe slates that will be pulled through, the impression having gained ground that the "government" slates will back Crabbe and perhaps change to Sam Johnson if the opportunity offers in the convention.

The Second Precinct (Makiki) of the Fourth always has something to offer and it is not behind the game this year. Gerritt Wilder and some thirteen others are out with a picked stick after the slate makers who met in an office the other day and made up a list of ten men who are said to be straight Brown men.

Immediately Wilder heard of this he went on the war path and wanted to know what right these men had to run the precinct. He was an independent man, a property owner and stood for good supervisors as well as good men for other offices. Why should he be arbitrarily turned down for a clerk that was getting $25 a week. The clerk might be a better man but he wanted at least a fair show in the primary and intended to get it even if he is not on the slate.

There were twenty-four men nominated.
